Description

PHX TuffPads are designed to make your ride safer. These stylish pads are black in colour. Stretchable straps secure the pads to your legs and arms comfortably so you can focus on riding. The inner part of the pads feature soft breathable material, and the outer shell is made up of molded hard plastic to protect your legs and arms from any impact. The forearm and shin plates are separate units from the knee and elbow plates to allow for independent flexibility and increased protection. One size fits all.
